

bothering us now. We've got better things to do. Get off old women.
We drove off. The bus said:
"There's been a device that only those who work can receive things. So it's got to be carried out."

We drove up to silo. On way / old people took their hats off to new boss, as if he were a landowner. We arrived at a silo. "At first the peasants laughed a bit. They'd never seen one before; but now they work hard at it."

The peasant women talked to me. It was / same story. "How can we live on 10 lbs of bread a month for women. And ~~no~~ clothes. I've been in / Kolkhoz now for / several years and not a scrap of new clothes have they given us.
It's worse, much much worse than it ever has been. He didn't want us. And they took away my cow - and my cow

and mine - and now my door is empty. And! home! they took away. We get 1/2 liter of milk a day. no meat - no butter.
The news has been so bad. Poor Mother Kurria is in a sorry flight. What we want is land and our own cow."

He talked to some more women. They nearly went and all shouted & talked at same time. "My Iva! How can I give him any food? Our clothes are in rags."

They showed me grain - very bad. That is what they keep for us - rotten grain. All best they send to Samara & keep

There was an uproar when we entered. "Look what they give us! That's all we have!
It's bad, no meat. But they took away our cows. I drown and empty. The lobby took everything. How can we work on an empty stomach like this?

We went out - old

off his hat before us. "Plottin' with a groan. My door is empty. Now I had 3 hours. My cows all taken away. How can I get enough to eat? It's getting worse & worse. It's a dog's life."

A woman was listening & she shrieked. "A lot of pity you deserve! You had your horse, your cows & with pity did you have for the bedbugs? I can't groan. I had no

Equal work - lack of responsibility

Before the speed of Stalis workers were not sent from one well to another; but now every well has its equipment of men who cannot go from one to another; much stricter now. The use of dilly workers must stay in, same well that is. The group of wells is now responsible for 1 well. End of 05/13/44

Now each must work
one definitely well.
