TRIUMPHAL FLIGHT OVER EVEREST
Britons Encircled Summit 5 Miles High For 15 Minutes

320-MILE FLIGHT
SPECTACLE NO HUMAN EYES HAVE EVER SEEN

MOUNT EVEREST, THE ONLY REMAINING LANDMARK ON THE EARTH'S SURFACE TO HAVE REMAINED UNCONQUERED BY MAN, HAS AT LAST PROVIDED ANOTHER THRESHOLD FOR THE EXPLORER.

Both of the airplanes of the expedition financed by Lord Hacon yesterday flew over its topmost peak, which marks 80,141 feet—more than five miles above the skis. They cleared the summit by 100 feet, and during the fifteen minutes they spent in ascending it secured some magnificent discursive photographs.

The flight about which is a mystery, the photographer, Mr. A. S. Hoy, who takes pictures of the mountaineers, managed to tear the lock with his handkerchief and thus save the invaluable work of the expedition.

There were four men who, by this historic flight, saw a spectacle which they had never seen in their lives. They cleared the summit by 100 feet, and during the fifteen minutes they spent in ascending it secured some magnificent discursive photographs.
